Although I may (or may not) agree with what you state, Rood, there is no evidence of what Jake has written on THIS board to justify such a rather angry retort. It borders on flaming (it's certainly insulting) and I can't allow it.

Nevertheless, you raise some very good points about the allure of the exposed glans (especially as a reaction when coupled with sexual repression). Why don't you resubmit your post but not specifically aimed at Jake.

diminished sexual response with either compulsive sex behaviors [19] or desensitized glans and the absence of the fine-touch receptors [21,22] and ero genous mobility of the prepuce may necessitate inordinate stimulation of residual penile nerve endings to achieve pleasure or orgasm.
Numerous respondents described needing to resort to extraordinarily violent, thrusting during intercourse, with some respondents their wives) reporting genital dryness, abrasion, pain and bleeding.
