Dear all

I've been on the list for some time, enjoying reading the messages.

Six days ago, I finally got circumcised by Dr Zarifa of London. He was very agreeable and performed at my request what looks like it will be a 'total' circumcision (ie one that is tight when flaccid and the skin completely immobile and slightly shiny when erect, with pubic hair and the scrotum pulled onto the lower shaft). The scar line is about half way down my shaft when flaccid (I'm still trying to minimise erections so watch this space for later reports).

There is still some pain and swelling as I would expect, but everything seems to be healing ok. I'm taking a multivitamin and B and C supplements in order to help things along. I guess I'll start with vitamin E in a few days.

I had originally planned to go to David Cornell in the States, but my situation didn't allow that. Nevertheless, as far as I can tell Dr Zarifa did an excellent job.

I'm really proud to be circumcised at last, and look forward to keeping everyone here updated.

Jake.
